Submitting your exam solutions

Mattias Villani

You can submit your exam solutions using either:

- html
- pdf (works since late October)

Below are instructions for each type of file.

> ❗ Files can only be submitted from the `Downloads` folder
>
> Save or move all exam files to the `Downloads` folder before submitting your final solutions.

pdf

Render the Quarto file to pdf (`format: pdf` in the so called YAML at the top of your Quarto file) and submit the pdf file. No extra files needed. It may take a minute on the first render, so try to render to pdf early in the exam, to make sure it works.

html

When you render to html (`format: html` in the so called YAML at the top of your Quarto file) RStudio produces a html file and a folder in the same directory, containing figures and other things. You need to submit both the html file and this folder with graphics. To do this, you need to compress all files into a .zip file. Select all files and right-click to compress to a .zip file, as illustrated by the two figures below. Then submit only the .zip file.
